

Good morning, NAAFA,

I have just read the Winter 2009-10 NAAFA Report and can find no untruths (is that a word?) regarding the subject matter contained. I remember that when I was an AMFAM agent, every time the NAAFA Report went out, our DM use to bring it up in a District Meeting for discussion so he would have an opportunity to put his spin on it. Of course because of the fear factor no one would debate his opinions. The older agents would look at each other and roll their eyes as he had his time on the podium, but the newer agents believed him and actually thought NAAFA was the evil one, not American Family. So sad! Keep up the good work!
