NAAFA,

I just finished reading the report this afternoon.

The longer I work with other companies the more I realize how far AF is behind the times.

I operate with everything wireless,(laptops, printers, faxes, etc,) paid for it myself, and don't have near the computer problems I had with AF's equipment.

The AF agents I still communicate with have no idea if they will be in business next year or not. Their policy counts are going lower (except for the newer agents getting transfers).

With just 6 months as an independent agent, I can tell you it was the best move for me at the time. I wish I could have done this 5 years ago.

I have a web designer working on a web site for me that will connect to several of the companies I currently sell for, to give insureds weekend quotes. I love this country!!

I wish you the very best. Have a great weekend.
